

CHARLEVOIX

Dominated by landscapes that have long enchanted painters, poets, writers, and musicians, the Charlevoix region is where sea and mountains meet: steep cliffs, exceptional parks, impressive villas, and tidy villages nestled at the base of the hills or in peaceful coves. Designated a World Biosphere Reserve by UNESCO, Charlevoix owes its spectacular geography to the impact of a 15-billion-ton meteor 350 million years ago. Don't skip Charlevoix during your Quebec tour.

WHAT TO DO

PARC DES HAUTES-GORGES-DE-LA-RIVIÈRE-MALBAIE ★★

Hautes-Gorges-de-la-Rivière-Malbaie National Park is truly one of the most beautiful territories in Quebec, and one of the reasons that the Charlevoix region was designated a World Biosphere Reserve. The park was named after a series of valleys cut deep into a range of high mountains reaching over 1,000 m in altitude. Steep slopes, beautiful natural surroundings, and the unusual course of Rivière Malbaie make this an exceptional and unique site.

L'ACROPOLE-DES-DRAVEURS ★★★

Distance (round trip): 10.4 km

Time (round trip): 5 hrs.

Level: Difficult

Elevation gain: 800 m

The famous Acropole des draveurs hiking trail is a favourite activity and a must-do for visitors to Quebec. The trail offers stunning views of the highest rock faces in Eastern Canada, and leads to the park's highest peak and an exceptional 360° panorama of Rivière Malbaie, winding through the valley far below. You should note that this trail is classified "difficult" due to its high elevation gain (800 metres) over a short distance (10.4 kilometres round trip). You can be sure that the effort required will be well worth it! The round-trip hike takes about 5 hours. The best time to hike the trail is early in the morning as you may find caribou grazing at the summit!

DISCOVERY CRUISE ON RIVIÈRE MALBAIE ★

CHARLEVOIX COAST ★★★

Route 138, which crosses the Charlevoix region from Quebec City to Tadoussac, is a lovely scenic drive. However, between La Malbaie and Baie-Saint-Paul, you should take Route 362 rather than the 138. This stretch of road is so spectacular that Tourisme Québec has designated it a tourist route, calling it the St. Lawrence Route. One of the loveliest scenic roads in all of Canada.

BAIE-SAINT-PAUL ★★

Founded over 350 years ago, Baie-Saint-Paul is one of the oldest and most charming towns in Quebec. Surrounded by sea, mountains and the great outdoors, Baie-Saint-Paul has long been a popular destination for artists and has managed boutiques and art galleries. You can also pay a visit to Baie-Saint-Paul beach (210 Rue Sainte-Anne). It's a lovely spot for a stroll or a picnic.

LA MALBAIE ★

With more than 200 years of history, La Malbaie is considered by many to be the birthplace of resort vacationing in Canada. You can stroll along Rue du Quai à Pointe-au-Pic or climb the Chemin des Falaises to discover bourgeois homes of a past century in a charming bucolic setting. Be sure to visit or photograph the iconic Fairmont Le Manoir Richelieu and simply breathe in the sea air on the bicycle path along the river.

ÎLE-AUX-COUDRES ★

This picturesque 11 km by 5 km island is located in the St. Lawrence River just off the Charlevoix coast, across from Baie-Saint-Paul. The island has preserved its rural charm and serenity. Beached schooners - remnants of a past age - dot the coast. A tour of the island (21km) by car or bicycle is the best way to discover its beauty.
